

EXPERIENCED REAL ESTATE MEN BUY FAIRFIELD REALTY COMPANY

"We are very optimistic and enthusiastic about the real estate business in Portland both from the standpoint of future growth and economic stability. This is the reason we decided to enter the business at this time." said Grover Sparkman and Milt Dalby as they announced their purchase of Fairfield Realty at 3307 SE 50th avenue. This was previously the Henry F. English Co., a Portland business firm since 1951.

They will work mostly with east side homes and income property, with an emphasis on quality of service to the seller and the buyer.

Mr. Sparkman who will be broker for Fairfield, has been in advertising and real estate since moving to Portland from Ogden, Utah in 1958. Mr. Dalby will be associate broker and sales manager. He has been in real estate for the past five years, and is also associated with Carson Oil co.

Mark Weaver, previous owner and broker, will be with the firm as associate broker and will specialize in property development and management.

Louise Sparkman will be the receptionist and secretary. She has had a real estate license since 1964. Salesmen for the firm will be Lynn Cram, Curt Smith, Ewald Schmidt, Art Foster, Harold Ausc and Nora Adair. The combined experience of the salesmen and brokers at Fairfield total over 60 years experience in listing and selling Portland property.
